

Kinokuniya offers expansion of KinoDen access through July

Kinokuniya Company Ltd. (Chairman and President Masashi Takai) will expand the number of concurrent users for select eBooks on KinoDen (Kinokuniya Digital Library) through July 31, 2020. Regardless of the original purchase conditions, the number of concurrent users will increase to a maximum of 50. This expanded access will be applied to select eBooks purchased by libraries, and no additional fee is required.

This arrangement aims to support students and faculty members who are facing restricted access to their campuses and library resources during the COVID-19 pandemic.

KinoDen provides 24/7 access to eBooks. The free reading app is equipped with useful study functions, such as the personal online bookshelf, bookmarks, and highlighting.

Kinokuniya, along with its partner publishers, will strongly support university libraries, students, and faculty members in the current unprecedented situation.

Overview of arrangement:

Period: Through July 31, 2020.

Eligible customers: University libraries around the world

Applicable to eBooks meeting the following conditions:

- 1) Purchased by libraries between January 2018 and July 31, 2020
- 2) Titles selected by the publishers who participate in this arrangement (see the publisher list below)
  - According to each publisher's policy, some eBooks will be excluded.

Concurrent users: 10-50 (Depending on each publisher's decision.)

*If a library purchases an eBook during the period of this arrangement, the standard price is applied (1, 2 or 3 concurrent users.)

How to apply: The number of concurrent users will automatically be increased for the applicable eBooks. No action is required.
